The Real Deal

Contemporary, square-edged design

Offices. Offices everywhere. Each with its own specific needs. The challenging demands of the work world require furnishings that are practical and professional – that give your workplace a polished look with real-world functionality and durability. This laminate desking line does just that!

The HON Company's 10500 Series provides a vocabulary you can translate into your own "working language." Private or collaborative. Individual or teaming. Choose from a host of storage solutions. Add matching conference tables. Enclose your area with panels.

Best of all, 10500 Series desking is arguably better built than anything else in its price class.

Individual Workspaces

The individual workspace needs to accommodate the idiosyncrasies of the professional who inhabits it. It should provide privacy for focused work, plus collaborative space for meetings. The versatility of the 10500 Series allows for both.

Looking for formality? We've got all of the conventional configurations. Struggling to get out of the box? We can get you there with sweeping organic curves.

Need help staying organized? We have all kinds of storage tools.

Teaming Areas

Creative use of space is a must in businesses that are constantly growing and changing. The 10500 Series is the answer for teaming environments where communication exchange is vital, but floor area is limited. Components can be configured and reconfigured to meet the needs of your workforce, while maintaining a sense of professionalism and style. Mobile and overhead storage make the most of every inch of workspace.

Modular Shells and Storage Components

Like to rearrange? Planning to relocate? A high-performance workplace can pick up and move – from floor to floor or across town. 10500 Series modular components are movers, too. This is a sub-group of desking “shells” that maximize office layout flexibility. Inside the shells you can specify from a variety of modular storage solutions – files, printer stands, computer housings or cabinets – that can be reconfigured in minutes. So today’s “ideal layout” can quickly and easily be reconfigured to meet tomorrow’s vision.

Storage Answers

There's an art to placement. Using our broad family of storage components, you can take organization way beyond the confines of the desk drawer. Our stack-on storage maximizes the use of vertical space. Our pencil/media/file pedestal is designed to not only accommodate supplies and hanging folders, but CD jewel cases as well. Storage towers, wardrobes and combination cabinets tidily conceal all kinds of materials. And our end cap bookshelves are perfect for mementos that make the office feel like home.

Reception Ideas

10500 Series reception solutions offer visitors a warm, yet professional, welcome. The spacious transaction counter provides plenty of room to fill out applications and forms, while also keeping confidential information out of sight. Matching occasional tables and coordinating guest chairs complete that all-important first impression.

Unlimited Colors

Color your world the way YOU want it. The 10500 Series comes in over six dozen color combinations to fit your color scheme and corporate culture. Rich, beautiful woodgrains add warmth. Contemporary solids create a sleek, corporate atmosphere. And the “Colors of Cool” give you granite or marble patterns that can be combined with solids or woodgrains to create multiple two-tone options. Find the hues to fit your personal style and get creative!
